Allied bombers and fighters struck out toward Europe beginning at dawn, the planes attacked neatly in bulk formations.

Hundreds of R.A.F. bomber command squadrons were sent to concentrate a great weight of bombs and fire bombs on targets in the Ruhr area. The planes were in the air for about 15 minutes, dropping bombs in the area of the Ruhr and ground installations and rising up tracks.

SWIFT ATTACK
A force consisting entirely of Lancasters hit Angers just before midnight and dropped all its bombs in less than 10 minutes. Smoke rose to a height of 15,000 feet after the attack.

Other formations raided the French invasion coast and attacked the Rhine-Ruhr chemical centre of Ludwigshafen for the second time in three nights. Mines also were laid in enemy waters. One plane was lost in all night operations.

Residents of southeast England said the attack on the French coast last night was so violent that it rocked their homes on this side of the Channel. They believed the raid centred on the Cilia area.

Yesterday, a total of 8,000 Allied aircraft dropped 6,000 tons of bombs in pre-invasion attacks on the Cilia area.

HIT OIL PLANTS
A big force of Flying Fortresses and Liberators concentrated its fire bombs and explosives on synthetic oil plants at Mosburg, Zell and Lutzerath (Lauchert) all within a 30-mile radius of Leipzig in central Germany.

Other formations of U.S. four-engine bombers simultaneously attacked a tank ordnance depot at Conslar, other targets in central Germany and the Cologne area of Western Germany.

Ninety three German planes were shot down, 31 by bombers and 62 by fighters. The attack was the pre-invasion offensive by dropping well over 4,480 tons of explosives on targets ranging from the Ruhr to the Cilia area, 35 miles east of Antwerp, Belgium.

ATTACK BELGIUM
Thousands of R.A.F. Dominions and Allied medium and fighter bombers, as well as the U.S. Army Air Corps, attacked France and Belgium yesterday, while rocket-firing British Typhoons smashed a German headquarters building in northern France.

Problem of Debt In Saskatchewan Said Disappearing

WILSON, Sask., May 28.—(CP)—Education Minister Hubert Staines said during a Saskatchewan general election campaign address yesterday that the problem of debt in the province was rapidly disappearing.

"We are now witnessing a great gold rush—a rush of farmers to pay off their debts and get cancelled out of their mortgages," he said.

In the past three years 12,241 rural mortgages had been discharged. The minister said he was convinced no C.C.F. government would plan to take any action to restrict capitalism entirely and put into effect a full program of socialized planning, he said, would mean socialization of the land and the small businessman.

Seek Coalition Liberals, Labor

TORONTO, May 28.—(CP)—The Labor-Progressive party "will strive to elect a Liberal-Labor coalition government in the next election," it was revealed in a statement issued by the party last night following a three-day conference here with all provincial leaders.

The statement said "it is the considered opinion of the Labor-Progressive party that only a coalition of the Liberal, Labor and farm forces can lead Canada to full co-operation in the United Nations, along the lines charted by the historic joint declaration of Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin at Tehran last December."

"The Liberals... have worked to maintain the unity of Canada. They represent those of the capitalists who understand that they can and must co-operate with labor and the farmers for victory and great post-war advances."

Regional Offices
Of Oil Controller
Issue Gas Books
OTTAWA, May 28.—(CP)—Regional offices of the oil controller throughout Canada will take over the handling of applications and the issuing of gasoline ration books after June 1, the minister of petroleum announced last night. Up to now, provincial motor vehicle licence offices have issued all "A" gasoline ration books while the regional offices of the oil controller have issued the special category books. Under the new arrangement, the regional offices will handle all applications and issue all ration books.

Dewey "Unchanged"
On Election Issue
HERSHEY, Pa., May 28.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York told a press conference last night that, while his position of not being a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination is unchanged, he is doing nothing to discourage talk about his leading in pre-convention delegate support and he expects to have invitations for the 1944 party platform.

4 Forest Fires Out of Control In North Areas

Eureka river, and east to Calling Lake, over Sturgeon and Lesser Slave lakes.

Weather conditions north of the province made the fire situation there hazardous. Just enough rain has fallen to dampen the area, but heavy downpours have occurred. South of the river, good rainfall a week ago lessened the danger there.

Forestry officials in B.C. have received a plea for a full co-operation in fighting forest fires in northern British Columbia.

Y.D. special commissioner on northern defense projects, Maj. Gen. Foster's offer to use of an I.L.C. A.P. plane to transport fire-fighters to fight fires was immediately accepted.

Fire hazard threatens to halt construction work at Fort St. John, about 200 miles northeast of Prince George, B.C., and related oil tank operations between Fort St. John and Fort Nelson, forestry officials said.

Hot, dry weather is alarming settlers and construction workers in north of Prince George where 67 big fires are already raging in the 70,000 square mile area between Prince George and the Yukon border.

E.W. Bassett, of the operational staff of the British Columbia forestry service, is consulting with forestry and army officials regarding the threatened renewal of the fire hazard.

ATTACKS REPULSED
The Germans counter-attacked with tanks and flame throwers all along the front from the Valtellina to the south. They desperately effort to throw the Fifth Army back from the approaches to their Alban Hill defense line, but all attacks were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy.

"It is evident that the enemy is doing all in his power to resist our advance against the Valmetto," said a German official.

"Despite this, British and American troops of the Fifth Army have made substantial advances south of Valtellina against increasing opposition from the Germans."

8TH ARMY ADVANCES
At the eastern end of the front, United Kingdom and Canadian troops broke through the German line at the junction of the Po river, 40 miles north of the city of Rome, and near the strategic road junction of Arezzo from the south.

Other Eighth Army troops captured Pofi, six miles west of Arezzo, and moved on to the town of Cascina on a lateral road running to Fondi, after crossing the Tiber and the Arno rivers.

Tens of thousands of German troops were driven out of the area, leaving behind a trail of wreckage and destruction.

ARROWS have just cause for complaint at the treatment accorded the club during the first week of the senior baseball schedule, by that supposedly fair-dealing dandy, Lady Luck. Loss of three players in two games due to injuries (two of them serious) would seem to be laying it on a little too thick.

Bill Welch, first baseman, wrecked his ankle in last Tuesday's game, but Ed Gault was available and turned in his usual game on Saturday, then the double setback came Saturday, when Gordie Robbins suffered a fractured leg and Ken Sam's broken index finger on his throwing hand.

Robbins and Jack McGill comprised the T.F.S. representation on the Arrow roster. Robbins had time to find his batting eye, but he was doing grand work at the second station—three putouts and four assists without a slip being the proof. Sam's, always a fine catcher who handles his pitchers well, this year appeared to be headed for a good season with the willow. Ed Gault, belting the ball at a 500 clip, having collected four hits of eight trips, the same as Freddy Lupton.

STAFFORD PITCHED WELL. UNTIL a few weird happenings in the last innings, Saturday's game was a ball game. The T.F.S. sent Signals down in order for the first three innings and then took off with only one hit until the sixth, when they deadlocked the count at 1-1 on singles by Ed Gault, Brown and Henry Dombroski and Ed Stafford sacrificed, plus a flyout by Lester Nelson.

Fred Lupul's four-pitcher in the seventh followed by a single run in the eighth appeared to have clinched the deal, but Signals changed all that and, in the last of the eighth that few witnessed, the T.F.S. took a usual even—player striking out and yet scoring a run.

Laurel Riley, batter for Brown and Stafford struck him out, but the ball got away from him and the subsequent throw to first was slightly off the beam and Riley

Arrows Push Across Four Runs in 9th to Defeat U.S. Signals 7-3

Dodgers from Aircraft 11-3 on Straight

Fred Lupul and Morgan Hit Homers

DODGERS combed two Aircraft Repair pitchers for a dozen hits before a crowd of about 6,000 in Sunday afternoon's Senior Baseball attraction at Benbow Park, and assisted by eight errors, coasted to a 10-3 victory, the second of two starts. As a result the "Chuck" Henderson's squad moved into a tie for first place with Yanks.

Arrows got fourth-inning pitching from Hal Stafford for eight innings Saturday night and then chased over four runs in the ninth to overcome the U.S. Signals 7-3. The first seven frames of this encounter, were the best in any game so far this season. As Paul Marshall's crew now holds second berth in the league standings.

Fred Lupul of the Arrows and Ralph Morgan of the Dodgers smashed out homers, Lupul lifting the ball over the wall and a pair of Jack McGill found last Tuesday's game was a ball game. The T.F.S. sent Signals down in order for the first three innings and then took off with only one hit until the sixth, when they deadlocked the count at 1-1 on singles by Ed Gault, Brown and Henry Dombroski and Ed Stafford sacrificed, plus a flyout by Lester Nelson.

Harry Baldwin got only one hit out of three times at bat, but he belted a home run and was hit by pitcher, O'Brien and so reached first base. Tommie Brand also had four fielding chances and he scored three runs and three hits in the eighth.

And, by the way, a U.S. Army aviator was killed in a crash landing following the accident to the T.F.S. plane. The aviator was Major J. C. Kirby, who was flying a C-47. The plane was flying over the field when it crashed.

Acara Wins Annual Classic Hatch Entry in King's Plate Fills 3 of First 4 Places

By FOSTER BARCLAY TORONTO, May 29.—(CP)—The name of a sturdy grey colt—Acara—yesterday was engraved in Canada's Turf history, winner of the 85th running of the King's Plate Saturday at picturesque Woodbine race track.

Creating history for the classic 4-year-old colt, Acara was the first of a three-horse entry to the post and captured three of the first four positions. Omalo and Savoy also took the colors of the Hatch stable, finished second and fourth, respectively.

Kensford, owned by J. K. Smallman, London, Ont., finished third after staging a whirlwind finish, coming from ninth place. Cum Laude, owned by Dr. R. Appleby of Vancouver, was fourth.

FOURTH PLACE TRIUMPH The Victory was the fourth place finish for Acara, who first won the event in 1938 with Monseigneur. Goldshire carried the colors to victory in 1927 and Monseigneur in 1941.

Hatch took practically all the gold and glory in this year's event. Besides being presented trophies, Acara was named King, he snatched three spools of $10,000 added purses.

A war-time crowd of nearly 38,000 persons, largest crowd ever to cram into a Canadian race track, watched the event.

M. D. McCallum, who was runner up in the 18 and over section with a net of 65 and H. W. Rogers came through with a handicap of 12 and under. The 18 and over division, but a four-way tie for first place—between Vern Moh, W. B. Brown, J. R. Webster and G. J. Edwards—resulted in the section.

Convoys Arrive Over Week-End

Two more convoys of army trucks passed through Edmonton at the week-end, on the way from B.C. training camps to Wainwright training centre. They bring to three the number of convoys passing through here, and a fourth is expected Monday afternoon.

Stopping in Edmonton overnight at the Prince of Wales Army, the second group of vehicles arrived Saturday and left early Sunday morning. The third arrived here early Sunday afternoon and departed for Wainwright early Monday.

In the 1,100 mile trip the convoys have suffered few casualties. One soldier was drowned when a truck broke through a bridge near Revelstoke and plunged into a river. Two other soldiers were injured in the same accident, a motorcycle rider fractured his ankle when his machine was struck by another cycle just inside the city limits here.

Highland Games Annual Service Well Attended

Included John C. McDougall, A. Bichan, and R. J. Jamieson, past presidents of the association; Jack Strachan, R. J. Gillis, E. A. Miles, secretary of the association, and others.

A group of competitors who will take part in the Highland Games marched in costume. Some were five years old and they indicated they will give formidable competition in the events in which they are entered.

The Edmonton Boys' Pipe Band under Pipe Maj. John Robertson, D.C.M., came next, followed by a detachment of tall naval men from H.M.C.S. Nonsuch.

Then came detachments from No. 4 Initial Training School and No. 3 "M" Depot and the Alaskan Wing, Air Transport Command, U.S.A.A.F.

The famous bugle band of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers, under Drum-Major David Collier, came next, playing their stirring marches from behind a detachment of the Alberta Women's Service Corps under Sgt. R. Dalgleish, instructor.

Under the direction of T. V. Newlove, the Edmonton Schoolboys' Band with snappy, attractive, baton-twirling majorettes came next.

David Collier came next, playing their stirring marches from behind a detachment of the Alberta Women's Service Corps under Sgt. R. Dalgleish, instructor.

The open-air service was conducted by Maj. McLeod, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon, minister of Robertson United church. The Scottish standard floated above the platform from which the service was conducted, while many other flags decorated the surrounding area.

In his address Maj. McLeod recalled that these were anxious times, and especially when millions of men were poised for battle on various fronts of the world.

He declared that the nation living closest to God would win the war and the peace. Nations, he said, could not be made in a day. It took time to work out plans. People were desirous of dispensing with war with its suffering, destruction and devastation. This could not be done alone on the field of battle. There would be war on earth as long as people hated one another. Germany had despised its neighbors and now those neighbors were battering at Germany's door and now would be inside. In the past all the great civilizations had perished at the hands of nations that had been despised.

During the service several hymns were sung, including Under the Hills, God is Our Refuge and Our Strength and O God of Bethel, by whose hand, The Salvation Army band played for the service. Dr. MacKinnon pronounced the benediction and read the Scriptural passage.

Canadian Navy Needs 12,000 Men

Canada's navy needs 12,000 men this year, and at present is in urgent need of seamen, cooks and sick berth attendants, Lt. Cmdr. Miles B. O'Reilly, Ottawa, chief recruiting officer for the R.C.N.V.R., stated on arrival here Saturday.

When the recruiting objective for 1944 is reached, Canada will have 92,000 men in the navy to bring it to the third largest in the world, topped only by the United States and the Royal Navy.

He said there was urgent need now for seamen, cooks and sick berth attendants. Seamen were being enlisted at 17½ years and must have passed grade nine examinations. On joining the service they were trained in gunnery, torpedo practice and anti-submarine detection. Those with the necessary qualifications were given special instruction in these branches.

Recruits enlisting as cooks were given training in one of the finest cooking schools in the Dominion, and anyone passing through this school would have no difficulty in the post-war period in obtaining work as a cook.

Recruits from the Edmonton district, he said, were of a particularly high standard and had established records for passing examinations. Lt. Cmdr. O'Reilly will stop over here for two days and will confer with Lt. Cmdr. J. A. Dawson, officer commanding H.M.C.S. Nonsuch, and Lt. J. V. Hewson.

Venereal Disease can be cured

But . . . NO HOME REMEDY CAN CURE
SYPHILIS OR GONORRHOEA

For every one who seeks treatment of Venereal Disease by a skilled doctor or clinic there are THREE infected persons attempting to cure themselves with patent medicines or depending on a "quack". Only a doctor's care in the early stages can prevent Syphilis or Gonorrhea from causing permanent damage and keep the infection from spreading.

See a doctor at once if you have been exposed to Venereal Disease, or if any of the signs appear. Know for proper examination! The Provincial Government maintains free clinics where you can get the best of attention without public knowledge and without cost to yourself. Immediate attention will insure cure in a relatively short space of time. Neglect in getting proper treatment lessens the chance of recovery.

Syphilis and Gonorrhoea are dangerous contagious diseases and their rampart cannot be stopped until every infected person is under the care of a qualified doctor. Free medical services are available in Alberta at the Provincial Clinics in Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, High Prairie, Peace River and Lacombe. If you do not live in a clinic centre and wish to be treated at home by your local physician the Provincial Department of Health will supply all of the drugs free. Complete information is contained in booklets which may be obtained from the Department of Health of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.
